David Prosser has set an example throughout the state for judicial restraint. He is respected by both Democrats and Republicans throughout the state which is more than his opponent can say.

One of the most noteworthy cases Prosser has ruled on recently was a case that involved how Jim Doyle and the Democrats in the previous legislature stole $200 million from the state's medical malpractice fund in order to balance their budget. Prosser rightly saw that as an attack on victims of malpractice.

This supreme court race has been called the most important on in 50 years.

Supported by:

Many of the people who have unapologetically cost Wisconsin taxpayers over $5.5 million in damages to the state capital building and in extra security expenses while they held their illegal and sometimes violent protests in Madison.

By people who have threatened businesses, vandalized businesses, vandalized government buildings and sent death threats to our elected legislators.

The husband of the Madison judge who has been holding up the budget repair bill.

JoAnn Kloppenburg wants to win this race based on her presumed anti-Walker positions. Anti-Walker translates into anti-taxpayer. Wisconsin is broke and Kloppenburg has become the poster child of government recklessness. For the past 21 years, she has been an attorney for the state's Department of Justice. Her role there has been primarily to represent an out of control DNR.

As the prosecuting attorney for an overzealous DNR, she has used her authority to push an honest restaurateur into bankruptcy, helped jail an 80-year old farmer, and harass dock owners throughout the state.

Her bias is obvious. Many of her campaign signs have "Fight Back!" printed on them. That is not the language of an unbiased jurist. To make things worse she runs ads claiming to be unbiased.

She also has no judicial experience. Both Barack Obama and Jim Doyle passed her over for judicial appointments. She thinks she should start at the top!

We urge you to vote for David Prosser on Tuesday, April 5th. We are local voters who are concerned about Wisconsin. We are not from some other part of the state nor are we from another state. We are the same people who you see at schools, playgrounds and grocery stores in the area.

Paid for by Citizens and Taxpayers of the 8th Senate District.
